

WAKE UP AMERICA!

The 2010 Census Will Soon Confirm the Shocking Facts About Our Nation's Dangerous Population Growth!

Tens of thousands of census workers are presently going door-to-door throughout America trying to get a realistic count of our country's population. The final numbers from the Bureau of the Census will be revealed early next year but the evidence is all around us that our nation's population is already far too large.

Today, America's population is estimated to be about 310 million. The U.S. population growth rate exceeds even China's and ranks as the highest among developed countries.

Failing to address the critical issue of population growth will result in an America with 360 million people in 20 years. And the respected Pew Research Center estimates that we will have to accommodate 438 million people by 2050 – just 40 years from now!

Such huge numbers will trigger major social, economic and environmental problems that will be devastating to our quality of life. Yet our political leaders continue to turn a deaf ear and a blind eye to the critical need for sensible population and immigration policies that can slow, halt and eventually reverse our present rush toward massive population numbers that will crush America.

The 2010 Census figures will only reaffirm that we are already a nation of too many people. However, it's not too late to work together to fight for a National Population Policy that will create a future where overpopulation does not threaten our children and grandchildren.
